This intensive two day course focuses on the concepts, terms, definitions, objectives, benefits and relationships within the core IT service management processes and functions, according to the ITIL¹ (Information Technology Infrastructure Library) best practice framework.

ITIL is a public domain approach for managing IT services. It was developed by the CCTA, transitioned to the Office of Government Commerce (OGC) in the United Kingdom and now maintained by the itSMF, the independent and internationally recognized forum for IT Service Management professionals. IT service management groups around the world are using ITIL processes to improve efficiency and communication in IT services.

The course is based on the content of ITIL's Service Support and Service Delivery books. It focuses on the holistic approach to IT Service Management through the use of processes, their respective relationships and workflows. And, this course prepares attendees for the examination that leads to the Foundation Certificate in IT Service Management. It is the prerequisite for the Practitioner and Service Manager levels of certification.
